

Rice Hall James SMID Cap Portfolio

as of March 31, 2018

Investment Strategies

The SMID Cap Portfolio normally seeks to achieve its objective by investing at least 80% of its net assets in securities of companies whose market capitalizations fall within the range of market capitalizations represented by the Russell 2500 Index at reconstitution each June.

The adviser uses a company specific approach to making investment decisions, which focuses on identifying stocks of growth companies that are selling at a discount to the companies' projected earnings growth rates.

The adviser looks for companies where fundamental changes are occurring that could lead to increases in revenue growth rates, expanding profit margins, and/or increases in earnings growth rates. The adviser typically invests in a company only when the adviser believes that such changes will lead to greater investor recognition and higher stock prices within a 12- to 24-month period.

Investment Objective

The SMID Cap Portfolio seeks maximum capital appreciation, consistent with reasonable risk to principal, by investing primarily in small and mid market capitalization (smid cap) companies.

Sell Discipline

The Fund does not sell stocks simply because they are no longer within the capitalization range used for the initial purchase. However, it may sell stocks for the following reasons:

- The stock reaches the target price set by the adviser
- The stock falls below the downside price limit set by the adviser
- The fundamentals of the stock have deteriorated
- A more attractively valued alternative is available for purchase

<sup>1</sup> Long Term Growth Forecast - Long Term Growth [LTG] is the annual EPS growth that the company can sustain over the next 3 or 5 years.

<sup>2</sup> P/E Ratio - 1 Year Forecast - A forward-looking valuation measure of a company's common stock, excludes companies with negative earnings. It encapsulates the amount of earnings estimated for next year per dollar of current share price. For the fund, the individual P/E stock ratios are then weighted by their respective portfolio market values in order to calculate a weighted average representative of the portfolio as a whole. P/E Ratio – 1 Year Forecast is not a forecast of the fund's future performance.

Mutual fund investing involves risk, including possible loss of principal. There can be no assurance that the Portfolio will achieve its stated objectives. There are specific risks inherent in small cap investing such as greater share price volatility as compared to other funds that invest in stocks of companies with larger and potentially more stable market capitalizations. Portfolio holdings are subject to change and should not be considered a recommendation to buy individual securities. Current and future holdings are subject to risk.
